DJ Cuppy

A philanthropist and a stylist, this pink-haired muso believes it's important for young people to go on the wild side and step out of the cages of their comfort. Cuppy grew up in Lagos and moved to London aged 13. She was gifted an iPod and filled it with Nigerian music so she could always keep a part of home. She's been chasing her calling ever since on the decks as a DJ and as a music businesswoman. She's currently studying at Oxford Uni!

Blue Saint

Daniel Sebuyange, known professionally as Blue Saint, is a Congolese and British rapper, singer-songwriter, spoken word poet, actor, producer and designer. His music lyrically incorporates a range of political, social, philosophical and cultural references with themes usually centred around social injustices. As a Liverpool resident himself, it's extra special to see him perform at National Conference 2022 in his hometown.
